

Jenzabar Financial Aid

Provide faster, smarter financial aid service

The number of graduating high school students is declining, resulting in increased competition among higher education programs. Financial aid has become a deciding factor for many students, making it critical to the success of your institution. Getting your award package in the hands of a potential student first could mean the difference between meeting your enrollment goal or missing it. Gain a critical competitive advantage by sending out compliant, accurate award packages faster than your peers with Jenzabar® Financial Aid.

Jenzabar Financial Aid automates your entire financial aid process and eliminates hours of tedious paperwork. Your staff can spend their time helping students (not pushing paper).

Fast and automated packaging

Group processing

Find students easily without having to compare multiple reports. Process multiple student awards in half the time with a simple criteria selection to define groups of students and award functions. In addition, staff can add and track comments and student groups for auditing purposes.

Simplified disbursement processing

Keep information between your Financial Aid office and student billing updated and accurate. With an easy integration process, all data changes are tracked and notifications are automatically sent to each user, making reconciliation simple—both at the end of each month and when closing out the award year.

Unmatched flexibility

Give your team the ability to award multiple program types, including traditional, competency-based education, sub-sessions, and more. Using various awarding methodologies, including federal and institutional, maximizes institutional flexibility. The state-of-the-art built automation, packaging, and reporting increases your productivity and gives your staff the information and tools needed to manage federal aid requirements.

Easy system set-up

Jenzabar Financial Aid's flexible system set-up means your staff will be up and running with minimal assistance from your IT department. This allows your team to spend more time focusing on working directly with students and less time deploying a new solution.

Future ready: your competitive edge

Jenzabar Financial Aid is built for the future. Developed in partnership with clients of all sizes and types, Jenzabar Financial Aid is user-centric and tailored for what you need now, what's on the horizon, and where financial aid will go in the future.
