One Big Beautiful Bill Act Web Center

This web center is dedicated to tracking the implementation of the One Big Beautiful Bill Act (OBBB or OBBBA), sometimes also referred to as the "Working Families Tax Cuts" Act, which was signed into law on July 4, 2025, through the budget reconciliation process. As this legislation contains significant provisions that reshape student financial aid, NASFAA has created this resource to keep members informed about the latest analysis, guidance, and regulatory developments as they occur.

Background

Budget reconciliation is a legislative process often used when there is a unified government, meaning one political party controls the House of Representatives, the Senate, and the White House. Reconciliation legislation can include statutory programmatic changes, but they must directly impact the federal budget. The advantage of making changes via budget reconciliation for the party in control is that it only requires a simple majority to pass each chamber of Congress.

Compiled Title IV Regulations

Part 668: General Provisions

This edition of the Compiled Title IV Regulations includes changes in effect beginning with the 2026-27 award year. Changes that were eligible for early implementation on February 3, 2025, are shown in green (added text) or green strikethrough (deleted text). Changes that became effective on July 1, 2026, are shown in red (added text) or red strikethrough (deleted text). Changes that became effective on July 20, 2026, are shown in maroon (added text) or maroon strikethrough (deleted text). Changes that will become effective on July 1, 2027, but can be implemented by the school on July 1, 2026, are shown in orange (added text) or orange strikethrough (deleted text). Changes that will become effective on July 1, 2027, are shown in pink (added text) or pink strikethrough (deleted text). Changes with multiple effective dates are shown in purple (multiple effective dates text).

(8) A program is a nonstandard-term program if the program is a term-based program that does not qualify under 34 CFR 690.63(a)(1) or (a)(2) to calculate Federal Pell Grant payments under 34 CFR 690.63(b) or (c).

(9) A student in a program offered in modules is scheduled to complete the days in a module only when a student begins attendance in the module. ~~if the student's coursework in that module was used to determine the amount of the student's eligibility for title IV, HEA funds for the payment period or period of enrollment.~~

(h) Reporting of student enrollment in distance education or correspondence courses. For each recipient of title IV, HEA assistance at the institution, the institution must report to the Secretary, in accordance with procedures established by the Secretary, the recipient's enrollment in distance education or correspondence courses.

(10) A student is ~~not~~ not eligible to have withdrawn if—

(i) The institution's records treat a student as having never attended courses for that payment period or period of enrollment;

(ii) The institution returns all the title IV grant or loan assistance, including all title IV credit balances provided to the student or parent, that were disbursed for that payment period or period of enrollment;

(iii) The institution refunds all institutional charges to the student for the payment period or period of enrollment; and

(iv) The institution writes off or cancels any payment period or period of enrollment balance owed by the student to the institution due to the institution's returning of title IV funds to the Department.
