Meritorious Achievement Award

This award is presented to an individual who has made an important contribution to the Association or to the profession that the Association wishes to recognize. To receive a Meritorious Achievement Award the individual should have made either:

- An important single contribution to the Association or the profession; or
- Significant multiple contributions to the Association or the profession.

As an example, Ruth Burns was honored for her developmental work on the original NASFAA Encyclopedia of Student Financial Aid.

Members may nominate individuals for this award using the online form on the NASFAA website.
